

THE TALL POPPY

STANDING TALL IN YOUR DIVINE DESIGN

Distinction is the cost. His glory is the reason.

BY DR. NATASHA N. DAVIS

Have you ever wondered why your presence shifts the temperature of a room the moment you walk in? Why you introduce a sudden break in the landscape, even when you try to blend into the grass?

It is not an error in your personality.

It is the weight of your design.

The poppy was engineered by Jesus to break the horizontal uniformity of the field. It spends its earliest season entirely underground, driving a deep, powerful taproot straight down into hidden places. When it finally rises, its stem is built to bend with the fiercest storms, only to snap right back to a perfectly upright position once the wind subsides.

You were built the same way.

If you have been "Self-Pruning" — dimming your light, softening your voice, and shrinking for acceptance — stop.

Knowing who you are in Jesus produces peace and posture.

Not performance. Not pride.

The posture of excellence and humility —
the only two things that can occupy the same stem.

He didn't design you to blend in.

He designed you to bloom.

You're botanical.

You're the Tall Poppy.

COMING SOON

NATURALLYNATASHA.COM

© 2025 Dr. Natasha Davis. All Rights Reserved. | The Tall Poppy™ is a trademark of Dr. Natasha Davis. No part of this work may be copied, reproduced, or distributed without express written permission.